TEN CENTS A WEEK

THE CLOSING EXERCISES UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Baccalaureate Sermon and Address to Y. M. C. A.
By Dr. Curry, at Tabernacle Today.

The closing exercises of the University of Florida begin today at the Tabernacle with the Baccalaureate Sermon and the address before the Student Y. M. C. A. These two sermons will undoubtedly be of an extremely high character, as the preacher, Dr. Albert B. Curry, now of Memphis, is known by many people in Gainesville to be a man of exceptional ability. Beyond this ability, however, is the lovable character of the preacher, which during his pastorate in Gainesville endeared him, not only to the members of his own church but to the citizens of the city at large.

The morning service will begin at 10:30; the evening service at 8. The music will be furnished by local talent, and will consist, at the morning service, of a chorus by the young ladies of the High School and a solo by one of the best male voices in the city. The hymns will be led by a quartet, but it is hoped that the congregation will take part. At night Dr. Geo. S. Waldo will sing a solo.

While in the city Dr. Curry, who is accompanied by his wife, will be the guest of Mr. G. K. Broome. Our readers will be delighted to have this opportunity of hearing two able sermons from Dr. Curry, and also of seeing him and Mrs. Curry socially.

Declamation Contest.

Monday morning at 10:30 a contest in declamation will take place at the High School Auditorium between four students selected from each of the Freshmen and Sophomore classes. These eight young gentlemen were chosen after preliminary contests held some time ago. The music on this occasion, as well as on Monday evening and Tuesday morning, will be furnished by the Gainesville Orchestra under the leadership of Prof.

Woltz. The declaimers and their selections follow: C. S. Bamberg, Lytton's "The Last Days of Pompeii"; M. L. Mershon, Hill's "The Perils of the Nation"; E. A. Taylor, Roosevelt's Inaugural Address; W. C. Price, Roosevelt's Eulogy on Lincoln; A. A. Baker, Daniel's Eulogy on Lee; P. S. May, Blaine's Eulogy on Garfield; W. A. Shands, Emerson's on "The American Scholar"; H. G. Glazier, Haye's Reply to Webster.

Monday evening two contests will take place: the first between four members of the Junior and the second between four members of the Senior Class. These eight young gentlemen have written orations, and prizes are to be awarded to the two who, in the opinion of the judges, excel in oratorical ability. From the Junior Class the four selected, together with the titles of their orations, are: E. T. Barco, "Money Hunger"; D. E. Coppleman, "The Making of a Nation"; R. D. Rader, "Education for Service"; O. W. Drane, "Waste Not, Want Not."

The Senior representatives and the titles of their orations follow: W. B. Martin, "The United States in Pan-American Trade"; G. B. Ames, "The Holy Grail"; W. W. Gibbs, "Roads, Their Value and Administration"; R. S. Kay, "The Solid South."

Graduating Exercises.

The graduating exercises will take place on Tuesday morning, beginning at 10 o'clock. A full program will be given in Tuesday morning's Sun. The address to the graduates will be of note, as Dr. Jas. H. Dillard, the speaker of the occasion, is a man of exceedingly pleasing personality and of great intellectual strength. He is a teacher who has held several important positions. After winning his M. A. degree at the Washington

NEGRO KILLED AT PARADISE FRIDAY

WAS WORKING AROUND SAW-MILL PLANT AT TIME.

Log Fell on Him and Broke His Neck, Death Resulting Almost Instantly.

Sam Shiner, a negro laborer employed at the sawmill plant of C. E. Dunham at Paradise, was instantly killed there late Friday evening.

It is stated that the negro was engaged in working around the mill and in some manner while he was performing his duties in hooking logs that are drawn up for the carriage, one of them slipped and caught him, breaking his neck.

The negro was a middle-aged laborer, having been in the employ of the mill for some time, and the accident was deeply regretted by his employers and coworkers.

His wife was here Saturday for the purpose of purchasing the coffin and arranging for the funeral, which was held at Paradise in the afternoon.

and Lee University, he was appointed an instructor and held the position for two years. During these two years he also studied law. After this he accepted the principalship of the Norfolk Academy. From Norfolk he went to Mary Institute, Washington University, as president and professor of philosophy. This position he resigned to accept the professorship of Latin at Tulane University. At this latter institution he was further honored by being made dean of the College of Liberal Arts. He is now chairman of the committee in charge of the Jeans Fund for advancing education in the South. He was for a time vice-president of the Sauveur Summer School of Languages.

Besides this he has published several text-books, has lectured on educational and economical subjects, and has been prominent in the work of the Episcopal Church clubs.

A treat is promised all who hear him.

CRAIGHILL CLOTHES RECOVERED

Were Found Under Bridge Over Branch Near Cemetery.

The clothing amounting to one week's wash of the family of Rev. Francis H. Craighill, which were mysteriously lost a few days ago, and for the theft of which a negro helper in the express car on the Atlantic Coast Line was arrested and afterwards released, were found under a bridge leading over a branch on the road to Evergreen cemetery and the result is that the Craighill family, the wash woman to whom they were entrusted and the helper are all feeling better.

A thorough search for the clothing revealed them under the bridge in question, but the basket which contained them was minus, and nowhere to be found. It is supposed that the clothes had been left awaiting the matter to pass over.

Dr. Craighill stated Saturday that it was impossible to tell whether all the garments were in the pile as found, but he is thankful to get any of them back, as the lot aggregated a good many dollars in value.

MELROSE NOTES.

MELROSE, May 22.—A. A. McRae has returned from a pleasant trip to Evington and Orange Lake, where he visited relatives.

Mrs. C. H. Clark and Mrs. Smith of Sanford are new arrivals in town and are located at Mrs. E. Thompson's cottage, on Pearl street.

Peaches are getting ripe and shipping from several groves near Melrose has commenced.

The many friends of Hon. W. E. Baker will regret to hear that he had to return from Tallahassee to his

MUCH TIME TAKEN UP WITH OYSTER MEASURE

Governor Opposed to Insurance Bill---State Uniformity to Third Reading in House.

TALLAHASSEE, May 22.—Consideration of the Williams oyster bill again occupied nearly the entire time of the Senate yesterday.

A deputy sheriff was sent to Jacksonville Thursday and immediately upon his return yesterday he appeared before the secret Senate caucus of nine in one of the committee rooms in the afternoon. This followed the long executive session of Thursday. It is understood that the facts in the case will be brought out later. The letting out of some advance information upon a bill is said to have something to do with it.

The Senators all maintain strict secrecy, which is in accordance with the rules of the executive session.

A message was received from the Governor transmitting without his signature the Johnson bill prohibiting fire insurance companies from setting up lack of title as a defense against payment of policies.

The Governor set forth that in his opinion more disadvantages would result from the enactment of the law than advantages.

Senators Flournoy of DeFuniak and Senator Miller of Santa Rosa county each spoke in favor of over-riding the veto of the Governor.

The matter was accordingly set as a special order for this morning.

Senator Flournoy expressed a wish to speak against the arguments set forth by the Governor for vetoing the bill.

THE HOUSE.

With the killing of the Doke county uniformity of text-books bill, the advancing of the Carn State uniformity measure to third reading and the pushing of the Taylor State guaranty of bank deposits bill to third reading, the House swung down to business on some important matters.

When the House met in the morning arguments were resumed against indefinite postponement of the Doke bill, but the motion was carried by a large majority, when it finally came to a vote, and the bill was killed.

The State uniformity plan was then pushed on to third reading.

The afternoon was devoted to the consideration of Mr. Taylor's bank guaranty bill, which is companion to the Senate bill prepared by Senator McMullen.

A bill appropriating $5,000 to be used in purchasing a silver service for the new battleship Florida was passed at the night session of the House by a vote of 28 to 13. The bill authorizes the appointment of a commission to purchase and present the silver service.

Insane Husband Brains Young Wife With Axe

NORFOLK, Va., May 22.—Eugene Peebles, an iron molder, apparently insane, yesterday killed his young wife before the terrified gaze of their little child by striking the woman over the head with an ax as she sat in her sister's boarding-house on Main street writing a letter to her mother telling of her hard lot in life and of her husband's unjustified jealousy.

When struck with the weapon the woman's head was split open, killing her almost instantly.

Peebles was arrested, confessed his crime and expressed a desire to die. Peebles came here a week ago from Savannah, Ga. His wife, who was Miss Narcissa Brizzel of Augusta and 27 years old, came here previously with her two children. The couple had been married six years. Peebles had been unable to obtain work in Norfolk and became despondent.

The inquest will be held Monday and Peebles will be examined as to his sanity.

Greene-Gaynor Bond to Be Paid Government

NEW YORK, May 22.—A decision handed down yesterday by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals affirming a ruling of Judge Hough, probably means that, after one of the most stubbornly contested suits on record, the Government will be able to obtain the forfeiture of the $80,000 bail in the cases of Greene and Gaynor, the two men convicted several years ago of frauds in Government harbor contracts.

Yesterday's decision was in the suit of the Government against the estate of James D. Leary, who was on the bond of Benjamin Greene, and sustained judgment in favor of the Government by Judge Hough. The Circuit Court of Appeals in the decision held that the bond was legally forfeited when Greene failed to appear in court, and the decision in this case, which was made as a test, will be applied by the Federal authorities to the proceedings against Gaynor's bondsmen.

Market for Sea Is- land Cotton Is Firm

SAVANNAH, Ga., May 22.—The market for Sea Islands was active and firm with a good business done on the basis of previous quotations. At the close offerings are pretty well depleted, except for the lower grades, and for the light receipts factors are now asking an advance.

Crop accounts remain about the same. The crop is unusually early and quite promising in Southwest Georgia, but as previously suggested, the cool nights have brought lice, and warm dry weather is now required, or some deterioration is to be expected.

Sales for the week were 1,433 bales. The following prices were based on factors' quotations and are revised weekly on Fridays:

Brothers Meet in Fatal Duel Near Pensacola

PENSACOLA, May 22.—A duel between Joseph and Monk Bray, brothers and prosperous farmers, residing near here, occurred yesterday, in which Monk Bray met death. They had quarreled over the dividing line of land, and when they met both were armed.

Monk Bray cursed his brother and then fired at him. Joseph then leveled his shotgun and with the statement, "I hate to do it," fired, the contents entering the breast of his brother, who fell dead.

CLOSING EXERCISES WERE IMPRESSIVE
LARGE CROWDS BOTH EVENINGS
AT AUDITORIUM.

All Gainesville Should Feel Proud of the Fine Showing Made at This School.

The commencement exercises of the Gainesville Graded and High School took place Thursday and Friday nights. The large auditorium was packed to the doors each night and many were forced to take standing room either in the aisles or outside at the windows. The programs were rendered without hitch or flaw and were much appreciated by the audiences.

The exercises Thursday night were given by the literary society of the high school department.

Everything on the program was creditably done and was much enjoyed. It would be difficult to decide which was the best, but perhaps the most popular numbers were the recitation, the comedy, and a piano solo by Ivy Jackson, a little tot of the third grade. The main event of the evening was the debate. Each speaker handled the subject and delivered his speech in a manner that would have done credit to an experienced debater. The judges rendered their decision in favor of the negative, largely because the speeches of the negative side were better delivered. Some members of the audience who were capable of judging said this was the best debate they had ever heard given by pupils of high school age.

The Graduating Class.

Friday evening was devoted to the graduating exercises, always the most important exercise of commencement week. The program for that night was as follows:

- 1 Invocation—Rev. F. R. Bridges.
- 2 Chorus, "Voices from the Woods," (Rubenstein).
- 3 Piano solo, "Home, Sweet Home" (Thalberg)—Francis McDowell.
- 4 Oration and Salutatory, "The Development of the Drama"—Casper Peeler.
- 5 Class Prophecy—Ruth Doig.
- 6 Piano trio, "Grand Galop Brillant," (Wallehaupt)—Isabel Padgett, Lucile Glass and Mary Thigpen.
- 7 Oration and Valedictory, "Edgar Allan Poe"—Ethel Durst.
- 8 "Piano solo, "Concert Polonoise," (Englemann)—Margaret Merchant.
- 9 Presentation of Diplomas—Principal W. H. Cassels.
- 10 Chorus, "Swing Song," (Frederic Lohr.)
- 11 Address—Dr. Andrew Sledd.
- 12 Benediction—Rev. Francis Craighill.

The graduating class of 1909 consists of three boys and seven girls. They are a most agreeable and faithful lot of young people and Gainesville feels proud of the record which they have made. One month before the close of school one of the most popular members of the class had to leave school in obedience to the call of duty and accompany a sick relative to New Mexico. But because of his faithfulness and general excellence as a young man, and the fact that he had practically completed the prescribed course the faculty voted to give him his diploma. Of those nine members present Friday night, not one had been absent or tardy a time during the eight months. The class roll was as follows: Richard Dallas Bowers, Casper Smith Peeler, Albert Vidal, Ethel Harris Durst, Ruth Ellen Doig, Montine Eloise Fagan, Celeta Kathleen Higdon, Irene Erskine Perry, Mary Elizabeth Rutherford, Ina Monroe Thomas. Miss Durst and Mr. Peeler having won first and second honors, respectively, were selected by the faculty to deliver the valedictory and salutatory. Miss Doig was elected by the class to prepare the class prophecy. The other members of the class prepared graduating theses which they read at chapel exercises during the week. The three representatives on the program for Friday night delivered their parts with the ease and self-possession of experienced speakers.

Of course the best thing of the evening was the excellent address by Dr. Sledd in which he set forth the purposes of education and the importance of the public schools, and showed wherein too much stress is put upon the by-product rather than the main end of education, upon the cultural rather than the utilitarian.

After the delivering of the diplomas the program was interrupted just long enough for Mr. Matheson to deliver to Miss Annie Treadwell, a pupil of the junior class, a medal offered by the J. J. Finley Chapter of the U. D. C. for the best essay on the life of Jefferson Davis. Mr. Matheson's presentation speech was brief but very appropriate.

NEW MOVING PICTURE SHOW.

First Night Proved Success, Notwithstanding Disadvantages.

The Kalbfeld Moving Picture Show gave its first entertainment at the New Baird last night, and considering the fact that only short notice was given, only one day, the house was fairly well filled, and those who attended were perfectly satisfied.

It is the intention of Manager Kalbfeld to put on a first-class show each night during the week, except Sunday, and the venture will no doubt prove profitable.

Beginning Monday night a regular nightly entertainment will be given with license films, among the best in the market, and the small price of admission is bound to draw the crowd.

Biliousness and Constipation.

For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The tablets relieve the ill-feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, purify the stomach, liver and blood, helping the system to do its work naturally.—Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala. MOTHERS' MEETING OF W.C.T.U.

Very Enjoyable Program Was Rendered at Home of Mrs. Gracy.

Another delightful gathering of the loyal temperance women and friends took place at the residence of Mrs. L. C. Gracy, whose beautiful home is a pleasure to behold. Three spacious rooms were comfortably filled with old friends and prospective members.

At the Mothers' Meetings the president gives place to one of the members of the Union who kindly officiates on the occasion, and relieves the chair of her official duties for that time.

Mrs. M. J. Patterson conducted the exercises by opening with the reading of the thirteenth chapter of Corinthians, followed by prayer by Mrs. W. B. Higdon, and singing of suitable hymn by the company.

The following program was rendered:

1. Selection, "Habit is Power"—Mrs. Hart.
2. Vocal trio—Mesdames Palmer, Graves and Coles.
3. Selection, "An Old-Fashioned Story"—Mrs. Gross.
4. Selection, "Home Habits"—Mrs. L. C. Smith.
5. Piano solo—Miss Bertha Andrews.
6. Selection, "What is Home Without a Dad?"—Miss Anderson.
7. Song, "Father, Come Home"—Miss Bernice DeLand.
8. Recitation, "The Runaway Boy"—Miss Gracy.
9. Piano solo, "Shower of Pearls"—Mrs. W. F. Yocom.

Prof. Clarke entertained the company for a half hour with violin selections which he played with the enthusiasm of a much younger man. Mr. Clarke is beyond the hey-day of youth, being over seventy. We could preach a little sermon right here to men and women who have possessed a God-given talent for art or music and have neglected it, and therefore, lost it. What will the answer be when He asks: "What did you do with the talent I gave you?" The answer will be like that of the unprofitable servant: "I buried it." Talents for art and music and other gifts are more valuable in His estimation than are silver and gold.

Ices and cakes were served as usual after the program of one of the most enjoyable meetings that has ever been held by the Union.

As it was the last time Mrs. Yocom could be present before her departure from the city, a very touching tribute was paid her by the presiding officer in her remarks, and also by the moment of silent prayer by the ladies in her behalf, which was most highly appreciated and to which Mrs. Yocom responded in a few words which could not fully express her regret at parting.

PRESS REPORTER.

A Half-Holiday.

The big store of the G. W. Hyde Co. comes boldly to the front and makes the initiative move again this season, following the custom they inaugurated two years ago, of giving to their employees a half day's holiday each Thursday afternoon during the summer months. This is now being done by all of the largest and best concerns throughout the entire country, as they feel that a half-day's rest in the middle of the week tends to better fit their employees for the rest of the week's business.

This move is considered highly commendable by the patrons of the big store and they, too, rejoice with the employees for the benefits they will derive from it.

Their ad. in this issue contains an announcement of this half-holiday, also the bulletin for Monday and Tuesday's store news, which will prove both interesting and valuable to all lovers of economy.

Pleasant Birthday Party.

Little Misses Thelma and Dorothy Bullard gave a pleasant birthday party at the home of their parents Saturday afternoon which was largely attended by the little ladies' friends. There were about thirty present and the time was delightfully spent in games and refreshments were served before the departure, which made the little ones long for many returns of the occasion.

PIANOS READY FOR INSPECTION OF MOST CAREFUL CRITIC.

No Such Instruments Ever Given

All Competition.

Quite a change was made in the standing of the various contestants of the twenty in the count of yesterday morning.

Miss Addie Goode secured a club of daily subscribers and collected enough votes to place her close to the leader, Miss Evans, and weekly clubs received from the country districts also make a change in the standing of out-of-town contestants.

The candidates from the country sections are requested to visit the city and see the handsome pianos now displayed in the windows of the Gainesville Hardware Company and the Gainesville Furniture Company. We want all to take particular pains to examine them, the workmanship that has been placed upon them and the fine manner in which they are put up. In addition to the instruments we have included a handsome stool and scarf to go with each piano and can state without fear of contradiction that such values were never before given away under any contest plan. They are a product that cannot be purchased for less than $325 cash and we want the candidates to see just what they are working for.

Look over the list of business houses and refer your friends to them. Now that the schools have closed in most places you can get among your friends and have more time for canvassing for The Sun and merchants.

The offers made by this paper are very liberal and pay handsomely for the time you are engaged. See your neighbor and if he hasn't already paid his subscription have him do so through you and secure as many clubs as you can.

LOCAL TALENT SECURED AND PRACTICE SOON TO BEGIN.

Experienced Local "Stars" Will Be
Sprinkled All Along in This Great Event.

The Eagles, one of the youngest of the fraternities of the city, will give a performance at the opera house within the next few weeks that promises to eclipse all former attempts in mirths in Gainesville.

The management of the performance has been placed in competent hands and they have in turn secured the services of Messrs. Allen and Witherspoon, who will at once look over the field and select material for the coming performance.

The play will be put on, not only as a benefit to the organization, but as an attraction well worthy of the patronage of the city and such "conspicuous" figures as Ed Wellington, John F. Seagle, Frank Hale and Fletcher Burnett have been spoken to and will doubtless render their assistance.

Mr. Allen states that he has found a great deal of material in Gainesville that is particularly adapted to this class of work and he is sure that he can give as good a show as the average professional aggregations now touring the country.

Notice to the Public.

The Gainesville Dairy, Geo. T. Estabrook, proprietor, desires to announce that all milk cows of this dairy have been thoroughly tested by an officer of the State Board of Health, appointed especially for this purpose, and found to be in a perfectly healthy condition. All were tested with tuberculin toxin, the regular test, and were found to be perfectly free from any degree of tuberculosis, or any possibility of contracting same.

This official also made a thorough inspection of the dairy, and found same in a clean and sanitary condition.

All milk vessels, including bottles, are thoroughly sterilized each day, which adds much to the cleanliness of the dairy.

Mr. Smith Very Low.

The many friends of E. W. Smith will regret to learn that his condition is very serious and he has been gradually sinking for the past several days. For a number of years he has been unable to get around and confined to his bed. He is among the old Confederate soldiers and is rather advanced in years.

A Hurry-Up Medicine.

Every housekeeper recognizes the need of effective remedies to be used in emergencies—when something must be done right away. Such a remedy is Perry Davis' Painkiller, for sprains and bruises, for strained muscles and for the aches and pains resulting from blows and falls. Burns and cuts are instantly relieved by it and helped to healing. Its mission of mercy began seventy years ago. It is used in all countries and millions of bottles are sold annually. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Have you seen the new large 35c size?

A circus high-diver eluded the police and jumped into East river from the Williamsburg bridge, New York, a distance of 135 feet. He made the leap on a thousand-dollar wager.

Live Oak is to have a new union passenger station, the contract having been let for its construction. Effort was made to secure such a necessity for Gainesville, but it was decreed that we must "make out" without it.

The Gainesville High School will finish the work of the term tomorrow. The institution has accomplished good work and has sent out a splendid class of well-equipped young people who are a credit to the school and our people are proud of them.

The Gainesville Sun thinks the present session of the Legislature would be very tame without the presence of Senator Beard and Representative "Jeems" Alexander. Sure! What would a circus be without its freak performers?—Southern Argus.

The Jacksonville Metropolis says it is reported that Senator John S. Beard has become disgusted with things in general at Tallahassee and has "flopped" to local option because of the defeat of his suffrage amendment. Can't tell—he may flop back before election time.

Discussing the political prognostications emanating from Tallahassee relative to possible aspirants for the positions now held by Senator Tali-farro and Congressman Clark, before the primary next year, The Pensacola News says: "West Florida is going to have a candidate for one of the important offices in the primary of next year, and the rest of the State might as well sit up and take notice of this fact now."

A mournful correspondent (a married man, of course) writes to know what he shall do to make his wife wear a decent-looking hat, says a Missouri editor. He can't do anything. If his wife and daughters insist on wearing peach baskets, milk crocks or pie pans covered with wings and vegetables and ribbons until they look like—well, like words which is not lawful to utter—he must grin and bear it like a man. It is given mankind to get the stern discipline of life through suffering, not only that of the physical sort, but of the kind which makes the iron enter the soul. But what's the use of complaining? When you can do nothing at all, do it as bravely as you can.

The Washington Star (Ind.) says: "The Porto Rican colony in Mexico City—size not mentioned—regards the President's policy toward Porto Rico as 'unintelligent and despotic,' and has telegraphed its protest. How well informed are the members about the situation in the old home! Maybe things have changed somewhat since they left. At any rate, as they have transferred their residence to another land, why not attend to their own affairs there, leaving the affairs of the island of their birth to those responsible for them under the law? A rich and happy old man when asked the secret of his success replied: 'Attending to my own business.' The business in hand is that of President Taft, and not that of the Porto Rican colony in Mexico City."

SUNDAY OBSERVANCE.

The recent action of Mayor Davis in ordering a more rigid enforcement of the Sunday closing ordinance, followed by an attempt of the council to pass an ordinance which would prove more satisfactory, has been the topic of considerable discussion by the press of the State.

The current issue of The Southern Argus, published at Brooksville by A. M. C. Russell, contains the following:

"The City Council of Gainesville has enacted a new Sunday law, which is creating some comments in that city and elsewhere. As to the justice of characterizing it as a 'blue law,' unwarrantingly infringing the rights of the individual, we do not know. But we do know that Sunday should be observed by all classes as a day of rest, and no work or traffic should be performed on that day which could be avoided. However, as Christ taught, Sunday is subject to the law of necessity like any other day. The hungry man is entitled to read and the sick one to medicine, even if he has to buy it out of a store on Sunday.

"Not because of its religious significance should Sunday observance be compulsory, because this is a country of religious freedom and tolerance, and there are those who do not accept the holiness of that day as a part of their creed. No one should be coerced in religious belief or conduct. As one day of the week, to be devoted exclusively to rest and cessation from daily occupations, is essential to the moral and physical health of the nation, and more people favor Sunday for that purpose than any other; and in a democratic form of government, as ours is, the majority of the people should govern; therefore, Sunday should be set apart as a day of rest, and its universal observance enforced alike upon all classes of the inhabitants of this country. Nothing should be permitted that would undermine or destroy its character as a day of rest and relaxation.

"The fact that some Christians reverence it as a holy day in a part of their creed does not justify contempt for it or its legal character by those opposed to Christianity, or at variance with those who regard it as sacred. While observing it as a day of rest set apart by the law of the land—not by the creeds of the churches—because they are good, law-abiding citizens, the non-believers are not acknowledging its religious obligation or sacred character. And when compelled to observe the day because of the law, they are not being coerced, either in their beliefs or religious conduct—unless they are anarchists opposed to all law both human and divine.

"While this is a free country, where all are at liberty to believe and act, inside of moral limitations, according to the dictates of their consciences, in matters of religion, it is also a Christian country where its laws for the health, safety and prosperity of its inhabitants, while not of religious purpose, are of Christian form and character, and must be obeyed with that understanding.

"Thus Sunday becomes the day of rest and relaxation to the Christian, the infidel and the pagan. Being a compulsory holiday in the law of the land, it is obeyed by the Christian because it is a day of rest in the law of his land, and a holy day in the creed of his religion; by the non-believer because it is a day of rest in the law of his land, which law he is bound to obey to be a good, law-abiding citizen. Thus the Sunday law, made for the health and well-being of all, is universally observed without unanimity of motive or coercion of science.

"It is far-fetched to say that the Sunday law is a religious or partisan enactment. The religion of the majority may have named the day, but the justice and wisdom of its enactment and compulsory observance are not based upon religious or sectarian grounds.

"The man whose opposition to the observance of Sunday as a day of rest is founded on the fact that it stands as a holy day in the creed of some Christian churches is an intolerant bigot, who is not in sympathy with the principles of free government, to which is committed the upholding of law and order, personal liberty and freedom of conscience.

"A better understanding of the purpose, scope and wisdom of Sunday laws would allay much of the opposition of law-abiding citizens, who are not believers in the Christian religion or the tenets of those who hold Sunday as the Christian Sabbath."

STATE PRESS ON LEGISLATURE.

That Poll Tax Law—The new law demands, that everyone pay his own poll tax with his own money. This is hard on the willing candidate, but harder on the unwilling patriot.—Fort Meade Observer.

Would Aid Prohibition—A bill has been introduced in the Legislature to prevent the shipment of intoxicating liquors from a "wet" into a "dry" county. A law of this kind strictly enforced would go a long way to perfecting the present local option law.—Live Oak Democrat.

Political Graveyards—Several stunts done by the present Legislature have been heralded as sounding the death knell of this or that prominent man in the State. Some of the members may wake up to the fact after a while that their constituents are not pleased with the idea of paying them the whole amount of $6 per day just to sound death knells. Some of the biters may get bit later on.—Starke Telegraph.

VEGETABLE MOVEMENT EXTRA HEAVY NOW

FORTY-TWO CARS LEAVE GAINESVILLE FRIDAY NIGHT.

Train in Charge of Engineer Weeks and Conductor Neil Rains Was Heavy.

The largest train load of vegetables to leave Gainesville so far this season was that of Friday night, when, from Gainesville and connecting points, forty-two carloads of vegetables were secured.

The train consisted mainly of cucumbers and two-thirds of them came from the irrigated farms around this city, which shows up to be the very best stock that can be produced.

Conductor Neil Rains, a former Jonesville boy, was in charge of the "cuke" extra and it was pulled by Engineer Weeks, being about all that could be handled by any of the larger engines now being run in this part of the State, and the Seaboard is fortunate in having such capable men who know how to handle this business.

H. R. Wilburn, the genial advertising manager of the Gainesville Hardware Company, has one of the prettiest windows to be seen in the city. While it is a hard matter to decorate a window from hardware to match a parlor scene, he has very admirably succeeded and shows off the handsome piano now on display to a neat advantage.

Many weak, nervous women have been restored to health by Foley's Kidney Remedy as it stimulates the kidneys so they will eliminate the waste matter from the blood. Impurities depress the nerves, causing nervous exhaustion and other ailments. Commence today and you will soon be well. Pleasant to take. J. W. McCollum & Co.

T. M. Venable of Arredondo was in the city yesterday. He states that a large number of vegetables are being shipped from his section at the present time and the farmers generally are pleased with the prices being received. While they are nothing extra they are holding up well. The crop is limited and only a small number of growers now have fancy vegetables to ship.

Card From A. Dolan, Veterinarian.

To the Patrons of Mr. J. S. Goode and the General Public: I have this week tested thirty-nine head of milk cows with tuberculin toxin, the regular test applied for the detection of tuberculosis in cattle, and found no elevation of temperature in these thirty-nine head of cattle to indicate any tuberculosis or sufficient rise of temperature to justify any one of these thirty-nine head of cattle to be held for further test.

(Signed) A. DOLAN, Veterinarian.

I take this means of thanking the clever and obliging Mr. Copeland and wife for their kindness and assistance to me during my stay out at the dairy; and not only Mr. Goode, but his patrons can feel assured that every precaution is taken to give them pure sweet milk which cannot be surpassed.

This is more dangerous disease than is generally presumed. It will be a surprise to many to learn that more deaths result from it than from scarlet fever. Pneumonia often results from it. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has been used in many epidemics of whooping cough, and always with the best results. Delbert McKeig of Harlan, Iowa, says of it: "My boy took whooping cough when nine months old. He had it in the winter. I got a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy which proved good. I cannot recommend it too highly." For sale by all druggists.

NEGRO BRUTE HANGED FOR HEINOUS CRIME

TITUSVILLE, May 22.—At exactly 10 o'clock yesterday morning justice was meted out in this city to Will McFadden, a ginger-cake colored negro, for the usual crime of that race.

At three minutes to 10 o'clock Mr. Fadden was brought from the jail, with Sheriff Brown on the left and Marshal Waller on his right side, and they immediately ascended the steps to the scaffold, a structure about twenty feet high, which had been completed Thursday.

After the usual ceremonies the black cap was adjusted, the lever pulled and McFadden shot down into the enclosure of the scaffold, which had been so arranged that no one could see him in his death struggles—if any. Evidently his neck was broken, for the doctor attending him said he never moved after the drop.

When McFadden was passing through the crowd of about 300 persons who had assembled in the court house yard to witness the hanging, on his way to the scaffold, he looked right and left as if to see if there was any one he knew, but no sign of recognition was noticed, and he then looked straight in front of him until the black cap was adjusted over his head.

Dr. Wilson pronounced McFadden dead at 10:08 o'clock and the body was then cut down and prepared for burial.

The crime for which McFadden was executed today was one of the most brutal in annals of this county.

In August, 1907, Will McFadden, knowing that the husband was away from home and would be detained for about six hours, entered the home of Mrs. D. M. Walters, at Pineda, Fla., a small village near Titusville, and at the point of a pistol, made the woman disrobe, threatening death if she did not, and detained her in her home for five hours, brutally and criminally assaulting her during that period of time. The negro then made his escape through the hammocks and for some time it was thought the crime would go unpunished. But those who harbored this idea did not know the man with whom the negro fiend had to deal with—Sheriff Joe Brown.

Quietly, but persistently, the sheriff has been working on this case, visiting railroad and turpentine camps far and near in this State and at intervals would visit the different jails and look over all the colored prisoners to see if McFadden was there. Last February Sheriff Brown got an inkling that McFadden was at a railroad camp near Jacksonville and he immediately departed for that place and captured his man.

While there naturally has been bitter feeling towards this negro fiend, yet there has never been any whisper of unlawful punishment by the public. Everything was quiet here yesterday and another brute has met his just fate.

Immediately after it became known that Sheriff Brown had arrested the man who assaulted Mrs. Walters, there was a movement on foot to raise a fund of $500 to show the public's appreciation of the sheriff's great work. However, when Mr. Brown heard of this move, he declined to accept the gift, saying it was only his duty and he could not take the money.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Camden, N.J.—"It is with pleasure that I add my testimonial to your already long list—hoping that it may induce others to avail themselves of this valuable medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I suffered from terrible headaches, pain in my back and right side, was tired and nervous, and so weak I could hardly stand. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health like a new person, and it shall always have my praise."

—Mrs. W. P. VALENTINE, 902 Lincoln Avenue, Camden, N.J.

Gardiner, Me.—"I was a great sufferer from a female disease. The doctor said I would have to go to the hospital for an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound completely cured me in three months."—Mrs. S. A. WILLIAMS, R. F. D. No. 14, Box 39, Gardiner, Me.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifling sum to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

Encouragement.

"I have a splitting headache," sighs the beautiful young thing.
"Have you ever tried magnetic healing?" asks the obliging young man.
"No. What is it?"
"You rest your head, thus, on my shoulder, and I pass my arm about your waist in this manner. Now be perfectly calm and see if this does not relieve you."

The position is maintained for five or ten minutes, and then the obliging young man asks:
"Does your head ache any more?"
"Yes—es."

"Well, I'm sorry I don't seem able to relieve you."
He is about to remove his arm when she looks up at him chidingly and says:

"It seems to me that if you have any confidence in your method you would be willing to keep on trying."—Chicago News

Uncertainty of Lion Hunting.

A lion is a fearful animal. Do not run away with the idea that he is not dangerous. You may have luck to kill twenty, but No. 21 will likely get you. However careful and good a shot you may be, there is the greatest danger in tackling a lion. I remember Colonel H., who had lived in Africa for nine years and during that time had never seen a lion, and the first lion he saw he wounded and got badly mauled, saying to me: "Here, man; you have been here only sixteen months and have killed five lions. Chuck it, man, while you are in luck. They are bound to get you if you go on hunting them."—Forest and Stream.

THE PLAIN OF GUISES.

Its Transformation Into the Field of the Cloth of Gold.

It was a magnificent display when Henry VIII. of England and Philip I of France met in good fellowship on the plain of Guisnes.

The king's retinue had been selected from the nobles of the kingdom. Wolsey, with his 300 followers, headed the escort and was followed by dukes, earls, barons, bishops and knights with their retainers. The escort numbered 4,000 horsemen, not including the queen's escort, numbering nearly 2,000 persons and 800 horses. The French king had an equally splendid retinue. King Henry and his great cavalcade were taken, on arrival at Guisnes, to the magnificent palace provided by Wolsey. There was an old palace there, and Wolsey had established himself in that and erected one for his king. The palace was the most beautiful place imaginable. I had so many glazed windows that I looked as though built of crystal, and much of the woodwork, both inside and out, was covered with gold. At the way from the gate to the door were rows of silver statues. Inside the walls of the chambers and hall were hung with magnificent tapestries embroidered in gold, and the ceilings were draped with white silk.

But Henry was not to spend all of his time in his fine palace, for tents had been erected on the plain, and in these the two kings and their suites were to lodge. The tents of the French king were pitched just outside the walls of the town of Ardres and extended almost to the tents of King Henry.

The tents in which the two queens were lodged were covered with cloth of gold, as were also the tents of the ladies in attendance upon them and of all members of the royal families. The effect was dazzling. Beautiful pavilions, hung with cloth of gold, dotted the plain; banners floated everywhere; fountains of wine spouted in the bright June sunshine; horses, decorated with fluttering ribbons, pranced about gayly. So gorgeous had the dreary plain been made that it has become known in history as the "Field of the Cloth of Gold."

When the Terror Quailed.

He would terrorize the neighbors in a most outrageous way, broke the wide world's standing records in athletics every day, while in pugilistic circles he could wipe men in the dust and show master tricks at fencing—laugh at every cut and thrust. He slew tigers in the jungle and scalped redskins on the plain. He chased lions across the mountains and harpooned upon the main. He could break a bucking broncho—yes, and rope a Texan steer; sling a Bowie knife or hatchet, throw the boomerang or spear. In hairbreadth escapes he gloried, did this worthy son of Mars, and he'd kick his weight in wildcats—kick them higher than the stars. But his shoes were in his pocket, and his face was ghastly white; he was silent as an oyster when he came in late at night.—Exchange.

He Took the Chance.

"No," she said, and there was that in her voice which told him she would neither change nor falter in her resolve—"no. I have vowed to marry none save one brave and strong enough to swear that should he ever be elected president he will give the vote to woman."

De Laney, such was his love's abounding depth, hesitated not at all.

"I swear it!" he cried and fell upon his knees before her.—Exchange.

HUMORS IN THE BLOOD

When the blood is pure and healthy the skin will be soft, smooth and free from all eruptions or disease, but when the circulation becomes infected with any unhealthy humor the effect is shown by eruptions, pimples, boils, or some more definitely marked skin disorder, such as Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, etc.

Humors get into the blood, usually because of an inactive or sluggish condition of those members whose duty it is to collect and carry off the waste matter and refuse of the system. This unhealthy matter is left to sour and ferment and be absorbed into the blood, and soon the circulation becomes filled with an acrid, irritating humor.

The blood then, instead of performing its natural duty of nourishing the skin, regulating its temperature and preserving its uniform softness, pliability and healthfulness, irritates and diseases the delicate tissues and fibers around the pores and glands and produces some of the various forms of skin eruption or disease.

The cause of all skin affections can be traced to some kind of humor in the blood.

Healthy cuticles are only possible where the circulation is pure; and therefore the cure of any skin disease can only come from a thorough cleansing of this vital fluid. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., cannot cure. True such treatment relieves some of the itching and discomfort, helps to reduce inflammation, and aids in keeping the affected parts clean, but it does not reach the blood, where the real cause is located, and at best can be only palliative and soothing.

S. S. S. cures skin diseases of every character and kind because it purifies and cleanses the blood. It goes down into the circulation and removes the humors that are causing the trouble, builds up the weak, acrid blood, and completely cures Eczema, Acne, Tetter, Salt Rheum, pimples, boils, and all other skin diseases and afflictions. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots and herbs, a safe vegetable remedy.

When S. S. S. has driven the humors from the blood, and cooled and purified the acid-heated circulation, every symptom passes away, the skin is again nourished with rich, healthful blood, and comfort is given to disease-tortured skins.

S. S. S. cures Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, Nettle Rash, and all other troubles due to a humor-laden blood. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write. S. S. S. is for sale at all drug stores.
